

EGIS-RUS LLC

Methodological note

EGIS-RUS LLC, located at: 8, Ivana Franko street, Moscow 121108, Russia, follows high ethical principles of business operations and fully supports the initiative of European Federation of Pharmaceutical Industries and Associations, Association “Medicines for Europe” and Association of International Pharmaceuticals Manufacturers on disclosure of information on payments to healthcare specialists and organizations.

We are sure, that the disclosure will contribute to provide better insight and understanding of relationship between healthcare professionals and pharmaceutical companies.

Disclosure scope and form

EGIS-RUS LLC makes disclosure of transfer of value to healthcare professionals and healthcare organizations in accordance with article 3 of European Federation of Pharmaceutical Industries and Associations Code, article 7 of “Medicines for Europe” Code of Practice and article 7 of Code of Practice of Association of International Pharmaceuticals Manufacturers.

Disclosure contains values related solely to activities in connection with Rx (prescription) products. The Transfers of Values corresponding to the following categories or provided in relation with the following activities, are not included in the disclosed information: over-the-counter pharmaceutical products; meals and drinks, any Transfer of Value which is out of the reporting scope, as defined by the AIPM Code of Practice.

Information about the transfer of values to healthcare professionals and organizations are disclosed at corporate website of Egis Russia in Russian and in English. These data include information about transfer of values to healthcare specialists and organizations, and expenses on research and development for the previous calendar year from January 1 until 31st of December 2017. This information will remain available on Internet for a period of 3 years after the date of the publication. Disclosure of information about the transfer of values to healthcare specialists during the reporting period is individual and made by identification of each recipient of values received during each reporting period. In case when individual named disclosure of the transfer of values to healthcare specialists is not possible, the disclosure is aggregate. This aggregate disclosure shows the information on each kind of payment, relevant to a quantity of recipients covered by such disclosure in absolute terms and as percentage of all recipients and total amount of the transfer of values to such recipient.

Disclosure of information about the transfer of values to healthcare organizations during the reporting period is individual and made by identification of each recipient of values received during each reporting period.

The disclosure of expenses on research and development during the reporting period is aggregate.

Disclosure currency and taxes

The currency used for the current publication is: Russian rubles. Financial amounts indicated in the publication are expressed post taxes in according the law of Russian Federation.